

RIVERS OF THE WORLD

So many things in our life are aligned with rivers' flow!

Since ancient times, people settle on river banks. They build cities and villages, construct crossings and bridges to overcome water obstacles, and guard the water borders of the country.

Children sail their toy boats in tiny rivulets, from which begins the river. People travel across rivers on rafts and canoes and oil-ships, they come to the bank of the river to listen to the play of the waves, to admire the riverscape, to dream and reflect about the future and to fantasize a little about the river road and where it leads us...

So let's take a trip!

Let's take a trip down THE RIVER OF CHILDHOOD when we swim, skate, fish, and explore littoral vegetation and river creatures.

Let's take a trip down THE RIVER OF LIFE from our childhood until old age when we meet people of various professions associated with the river protection, building on the river, and irrigation of dry lands.

Let's take a trip down THE RIVER OF THE WORLD, which, like a waterway, connects various nations, countries, cultures and religions.
